Comments:

Because Modoc County has not been on the distribution list for this environmental document, this should imply that Modoc County will not be affected by any decisions made in this document. Public comment is essential in the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) process; therefore, because Modoc County has not been informed of any decisions that would affect Modoc County, that should imply that Modoc County is not within the affected area of this CALFED Bay-Delta Program. Therefore, water policy or water distribution in Modoc County should not be affected by any impact mitigation within the environmental process.

If these assumptions are not correct, then Modoc County should be able to comment on the document. For anyone in Modoc County to comment on the document, the document must reside within Modoc County. I understand parts of the document, and only parts of the document, are available on the Internet; but some important parts of the document are not available on the Internet. It was not at the Cedarville library or any other local distribution point where the local populace could comment on it; the Board of Supervisors was not given a copy of the document. Therefore, if any decision is made during this process that affects Modoc County, a new environmental document that the county can comment on should be drafted.

If Modoc County is going to be impacted in any way, shape, or form now or in the future by any decision made during this process or the CALFED Bay-Delta Program, why wasn't the document accessible in Modoc County--at the Board of Supervisors, the Alturas library, or the Cedarville library--with enough time for the populace to digest the information and comment in written form?
